

Short Biography - Dr. Olga Konsevych

© Martina Sander

Dr. Olga Konsevych is an editor and media expert. She earned a Doctorate Degree in Communication Studies from Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv in 2017, with a special focus on Ukraine-EU relations and Eastern Partnership.

Having been working with different media outlets for 11 years now, Dr. Konsevych shares her knowledge willingly. From November 2019 to July 2022, she headed the editorial staff of the Channel 24 website in Kyiv and Lviv. After the full-scale invasion of Russia, she began writing for the following international media: Tagesspiegel, Sächsische Zeitung, RedaktionsNetzwerk Deutschland, and Euneighbourseast.eu.

Since 2019, she is a part of the German Marshall Fund of the United States and its innovative transatlantic network of young civil society leaders (TILN). In 2021, she became the first Ukrainian woman to join VVEngage cohort of Vital Voices Global Partnership, established by Hillary Clinton and Madeleine Albright. Since July 2022, Dr. Konsevych is visiting the WZB Berlin Social Science Center as a journalist in residence until September 2022.

More Information: <https://wzb.eu/en/news/journalist-in-residence-olga-konsevych>